The first person to put together information from the clues and find the medallion will collect a $500 prize offered by the Grayling State Bank, Chemical Bank North of Grayling, and the Grayling branch of the Old Kent Bank of Gaylord.

The medallion must be turned in at either radio station or the Avalanche. Medallion hunters only need to buy a $1 Grayling Winter Sports Carnival button to join in the search for the $500 medallion.

Fire Marshall Report Expected

By Jon Thompson

A state fire marshal inspected the Grayling Middle School Wednesday, December 26, and the school district is waiting for a report that's expected to come within two weeks.

Earlier in December before the inspection, Superintendent Kent Reynolds said it is unlikely the building will be ordered closed. He said the 69-year-old building only has to comply with old fire codes.

Reynolds said the fire marshal mainly looks at whether kids can get out of the building in case of fire and checks combustible materials in the building.

The fire marshal inspector isn't looking at the quality of the building for educating students, he said.

The inspection occurred because of the requests by two citizens in Grayling. Geraldine Yates and George Morse requested an inspection in September listing several items of concern for the safety of students including exposed overhead black plastic plumbing in classrooms and main hallways, classrooms with insufficient and indirect exit routes, no baffles in vent systems between floors, classrooms near the boiler, and overhead gas pipes.

The Gaylord unit supervisor of the State Fire Marshall, Donald Schorffhaar, denied their request because the conditions do not appear to be a serious threat to life safety or constitute a hazardous condition. Schorffhaar said it is their policy to honor inspection requests from only school administrators and school boards unless there is a serious threat to life safety. He also said there were two proposals on the December ballot that could correct any of the problems mentioned.

The two Grayling citizens managed to obtain an inspection later after an inspector for social services found the middle school unfit to house 13 children in an after-school program for the AuSable Day Care Center.

The building for an after-school program needed to meet modern standards and the middle school didn't. Yates and Morse wrote to the Lansing Fire Marshall Office after learning the middle school flunked safety standards for the after-school program. This time the state office ordered the regional unit to inspect the middle school.

Fun Continues For Nine Miss Grayling Contestants

The first full week of Pageant preparations behind them, our nine lovely contestants are looking forward to more hours of practice and more fun with their Pageant Moms.

The first exercise workshop was held Wednesday evening at the Chief Shoppenagon Motor Hotel. Exercise sessions under the direction of Theresa Furst will continue throughout the month until the week preceding the pageant. Thursday night the girls, Pageant Moms, and other pageant personnel, met at the home of Director Norma Naour for an evening of charades, and continued opportunity to plan talent and just generally get to know everyone involved in the pageant.

Thank goodness for the snow - or Sunday's sledding party would have had to be cancelled. But, it all worked out and everyone had a good time. After sledding the girls went to Wendy's for burgers and then on to the Mall for the first real dance rehearsal. Choreography and dance instruction is under the direction of Louise Tournaud-Hayes of the Crawford County Arts Council.

Activities have been planned so that all the contestants have plenty of time to devote to their school work as well as take part in Pageant workshops. Knowing exam week falls the week of January 14th, Director Norma Naour has planned a minimum of mandatory activity.

Next Saturday the girls will have an afternoon workshop covering skin care and Artistic Color Analysis at the home of Diane Tompkins. Diane will be assisted at the workshop by Maggie Prie-stap. The week's activities will climax with a Swim Party at the Hospitality House, courtesy of Steve and Phyllis Sauter.

The Pageant Committee wants everyone to know how grateful they are for all the help and support we receive from the community and particularly certain individuals. There are so many who give freely of their time and energy to make the pageant successful. All workshops are done by experienced personnel who normally receive a fee for their services. Local restaurants and party stores help out with food and snacks. Other local business help with props. And, of course, all pageant personnel give an entire month of their time in preparation for the big night.

January 26th at 7:30 p.m. nine candidates will take the stage at the Joseph Stripe Auditorium to perform for you. Impartial out-of-town judges will determine the girl who will reign as Miss Grayling 1985 - and be Queen of the Winter Sports Festival to be held February 2nd and 3rd. The Winter Festival Kick-Off Dinner will be held Thursday, January 31st and the new Miss Grayling 1985 will be officially presented to the community.

Consumers Power Sells Land on AuSable-Manistee Rivers

Officials of the United States Forest Service and Consumers Power Company today jointly announced the culmination of sales totaling over 28,000 acres of riverland on the AuSable and Manistee rivers to the Forest Service. Total purchase price of the several sales is $15.5 million. The land purchased in 1984 under the package was 1,582 acres for $1.2 million.

Consumers Power also announced that it has transferred over 22,000 acres of AuSable and Manistee riverland, at a price of $10.3 million, to the state of Michigan's Department of Natural Resources. The most recent sale as part of the package was 2,375 acres for $1.5 million. The utility also said it sold approximately 260 private sites to individuals who had been leasing them. The amount of these sales was $5.7 million.

The total acreage included in all of these sales represents one-half of the land Consumers Power owns on the two rivers. Meetings began in 1975 between Consumers Power and the U.S. Forest Service, Michigan's Department of Natural Resources and individual leaseholders to discuss transfer of the properties.

"We are very pleased with this transfer of valuable riverland from Consumers Power to the federal government," said Wayne K. Mann, U.S. forest supervisor at Cadillac. "Consumers has taken great care over the past several decades to improve and preserve the integrity of the AuSable and Manistee rivers by using good timber management and conservation practices," said Mann.

"This fact is evidenced by the recent U.S. Congressional designation of this stretch of the AuSable river under the Wild and Scenic Rivers Act," said Mann.

"Transferring the ownership of these lands to the federal government means the recreational value of the lands will be preserved for generations to come," added Mann.

"The transfer of these important lands would not have been possible without the cooperation of the federal government," said William L. Reid, manager of land and right of way for Consumers Power. "Much of the land sold to the Forest Service in 1984 was under federal energy regulation license and required additional cooperation from that branch of government as well," added Reid.

From Our Corner...

This year's winter so far has to go down as one of the craziest ones I've ever experienced...first we get a storm that bogs down just about everything, and then the days after it becomes mild weather and the snow begins to disappear...this happened after our Christmas storm and now after the New Year's Day storm it is at it again...Sunday the temperature is crowding 40 and the streets in the city are bare and the snow banks are slowly going down...what comes next, only the man upstairs knows, and maybe it's a good thing we don't know in advance...surprises are the spice of life...

We received a note and a small pad from Cal and Sue Brenner who are spending their winter months in Florida, and Cal figured the pad was appropriate for the ol' fella...it has a drawing of an elephant with turkeys climbing up its back with the notation "Don't let the turkeys get you down", was sort of cute and we are happy they do think of us up here in the north land...

A few days later we received a clipping also from Cal from the Thursday, January 3rd edition of The Palm Beach Post, of nearly a full page story on Fred Bear...the headline was "Fred Bear: Living Legend," with a sub-head "Bow Hunting Pioneer, Developed Archery Into, Sport of Millions"...right in the center of the page is a large drawing of Fred, with a bear and water buffalo...Cal, we enjoyed reading it, and am happy you sent it, but as it is copy written we are unable to use it...if anyone in Grayling would like to read the article just come in and let us know...we have it here...

By the way Cal, you really didn't have to mention how you and Sue were enjoying the wonderful 80 degree temperature...

Speaking of turkeys, this one is really giving me fits this week...all we have been doing is drawing mental blocks all afternoon...we can't extol on the Go Blue the way Bo handles bowl games, and for the life of us we can't understand college basketball...Indiana came into Ann Arbor and did just about what was expected, took the measure of the Blue, and then they moved on north to East Lansing where the Spartans sent them back to Hoosierland with a defeat, and then U of M takes the measure of the Buckeyes Saturday who also are favorites for the Big Ten title...it looks like it may end up where the Big Ten teams will be playing musical chairs to see who comes out on top of the heap...

I guess we like to watch football better than basketball on TV...one gets a chance to see all the band leaders more often...we did enjoy New Year's Day, watched some of the parades going on in the morning then in the afternoon and evening we watched parts of three games, along with getting the Monte out of the snow drift with much help from Charlie...otherwise our bride would have missed work the next day...heaven forbid, we can't have that...

We have been so good this past year we couldn't even think of one thing to give up for New Years...I suppose we could give up girl watching, but at our age what else is there left in life?...then we were told by our bride that we were going to give up eating cashews, that is after the jar I got for Christmas is gone, because they are too expensive, and we're not supposed to have an expensive taste...Rena just mentioned we could give up writing our column, that way she wouldn't have to set it, and besides, she said she was probably the only one that read it all the way through...one good thing about not making any resolutions for the New Year, you don't have to worry about breaking any promises you made to yourself...

Our weather took another flip-flop Monday with a mixture of snow and light rain, and started during Sunday night and is still going on Monday night...it has been a fine snow but, it still adds up to what we have...oh well, think Spring, it's only three months away...

This takes care of this week's turkey...we will bid T.J., Stefany and Amber goodnight, and to all of our readers, do have a nice weekend, if you like winter sports, it looks like the season is here for it...

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

PROTECTING THE MINDS AND MORALS
OF YOUTH

We concur with President Reagan that the primary responsibility for education of children rests with their parents. The Bible gives life training authority and responsibility to the home and the church. This article should help make parents more aware of dangers to the minds and morals of their youth.

Kee MacFarlane, director of the Child Sexual Abuse Diagnostic Center of The Children's Institute International in Los Angeles, Calif., and her staff, have worked with over 400 children who are alleged to have been sexually abused by personnel in preschool and Day Care Centers. MacFarlane gives us some facts to consider: 1) Children are most often molested by people they trust, their own family members - not strangers. 2) Reported incidence has been doubling annually on a national level since data collection began in 1976. In cities like Los Angeles, it has increased more than 300 percent in five years. The more people you trust with your small children, the greater chance of sexual abuse. 3) Child sex abuse has no racial, geographic, economic, or sex boundaries. 4) The majority of abuse begins before age 10.

Phyllis Schlafly has been a leading pro-family leader since 1972. She edited the testimony from parents and teachers in the U.S. Dept. of Education Hearings in March 1984. In her book, "Child Abuse In The Classroom", she has made these testimonies public. Among things discovered being taught in public schools across 29 states include: How to write a suicide note. Which contraceptive to use when I have sex with my boyfriend. Why abortion is better than adoption. Why it is sometimes OK to lie or steal. Questionnaires were filled out asking about personal sex habits, parent's attitudes, and secret thoughts. They found "role playing" pretending a boyfriend had V.D., and parents were divorcing. They played "Lifeboat Game" deciding which 5 persons should be thrown out of the boat to die. The book is available from Eagle Forum, Alton, Illinois 62002. The book is a tool to inform parents of their rights, and better enable them to protect their children.

For parents who will have youth in a secular or state college, you may wish to consider, "The Intellectuals Speak Out About God." Twenty-five leading scholars defend Christianity and the reliability of the Bible and explain why they reject atheism. This book will be important when your son or daughter is being taught that God is irrelevant, Christianity is outdated, there are no "rights" or "wrongs," the Bible is a collection of myths, science and Christianity contradict each other, and to be a Christian one must commit intellectual suicide. The foreword to the book was written by our President Ronald Reagan. You may order it from The Institute Press, 9502 Webb's Chapel Rd., Suite 100, Dallas, TX 75220.

Better education begins with informed, involved parents who seek God's will for their children. "Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it." Prov. 22:6.

Pastor Barnett

New RNA

Until now it has been believed that a double helix of RNA (ribonucleic acid) occurs only in a right-handed conformation, meaning that the two strands spiral about each other in a clockwise direction.

However, a research team led by Ignacio Tinoco Jr., a chemist with LBL's Chemical Biodynamics division, has created in the laboratory a left-handed conformation, where the strands spiral counterclockwise.

Crawford County Board of Commissioners

December 11, 1984 — Regular Meeting
SYNOPSIS

The December 11th meeting of the County Board convened at 9:30 a.m. All commissioners attended except Halstead; and 12 visitors observed at various times.

IN FORMAL ACTION, THE BOARD:
— Accepted the November 29th minutes as presented.
— Approved payment of General Fund vouchers in the amount of $30,754.92, $34.01 in Fish Hatchery bills, and commissioners' salary, per diem and expenses respectively as follows: Kitchen - $200.00, $210.00 and none; Harland - $150.00, $290.00 and $13.20; Neilson - $150.00, $140.00 and $19.80; Mattis - $150.00, $260.00 and $38.72; Miller - $150.00, $120.00 and $17.60; Weiser - $150.00, $130.00 and $2.64.

— Reviewed and accepted 14 pieces of correspondence.
— Agreed to explore cost of adding Commission on Aging equipment and errors and omissions to the County's self-insurance policy.

— Revised the ambulance fee schedule, with the following rates to be effective Jan. 1, 1985: Emergency runs for residents - $55.00 plus $1.50 per mile; Emergency runs for non-residents - $125.00 plus $1.50 per mile; Transfers for residents - $100.00 plus $1.50 per mile; and transfers for non-residents - $250.00 plus $2.00 per mile.

— Established the following pay rates for ambulance attendants: $10.00 per run for emergency runs, $7.50 per hour for transfers, and $5.00 per hour for stand-by (police and fire calls). The rates will be reviewed in six months.

— Adopted a new fee schedule for building permits, effective January 1st. (Copy on file in the Clerk's office.)

— Approved purchase of a stand for the small copy machine for $75.00 and seven used chairs for $75.00.

— Recorded no objection to transfer of the District Court Probation Officer to Roscommon County employ, or to transfer of his retirement to Roscommon's MERS account, provided Crawford incurs no additional cost in the process.

— Increased the fee for certified copies of vital records in the Clerk's Office by $1.00. New charge, effective Jan. 1st, is $6.00 for one certified copy, and $3.00 for each additional copy purchased at the same time.

— Approved a transfer of $7,500.00 from General Fund appropriations to the Airport.

— Placed a freeze on all new hires and personnel replacements until further notice. Exception was an unfilled clerical position in the Equalization Dept. which was budgeted for 1985. The return of a deputy clerk from sick leave was also excluded from the freeze.

— Transferred $162,414.00 from the Federal Revenue Sharing Fund to the General Fund for public safety.

— Accepted the draft of the proposed 1985 General Fund Budget for public hearing as it was prepared by the Finance Committee.

— Denied the request of an employee that the County buy up one year and 11 months of his military service time under the retirement program. Had the request been approved, cost of the County's share would have been $1,404.00.

— Adopted a retirement program for elected, appointed and salaried County employees under which the County pays the entire contribution. All bargaining unit personnel already have such a program.

— Ratified the 1984 labor contract with AFSCME employees of the 83rd District Court. The ratification was based on a tentative agreement, and brings wages of District Court personnel into line with those of other County AFSCME employees. The agreement is retroactive to Jan. 1, 1984.

— Put a freeze on new equipment purchases for all departments through 1985.

— Tabled action on an update of County job descriptions and pay schedules. Cost could have been about $6,000.00 if conducted by the MI Dept. of Civil Service. Responsibility for the review and update was left jointly to the Personnel Committee and Department Heads.

ANNOUNCEMENTS AND REPORTS:
— CoPoCo: Letters have been sent to the Frederic and Grayling Postmasters asking for a commitment to implement the numbering system for postal use if the County adopts it.

— Landfill: While the operation is running smoothly, revenues are down. The DNR will not guarantee that clay capping will solve the contamination problem at the old site; and alternative covers are being investigated.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, COMMISSIONERS:
— Heard brief updates on District Health and Zoning activities.

— Discussed, in depth, the 1985 proposed budget, and audit recommendations for dealing with the deficit.

— Were reminded by the Treasurer that since restricted fund monies would no longer be co-mingled with the General Fund, expenditures would have to be more closely monitored.

— Decided, by consensus, to include bond coverage for the Drain Commission and Drain Commissioner under the County's self insurance plan with Municipal Risk Management.

— Set the Board of Commissioners Organizational Meeting for January 2, 1985, at 1:30 p.m.

Meeting adjourned at 4:15 p.m.
Complete text of official minutes is available in the Office of the County Clerk.

GHS Spiker Named All-Star

GHS volleyballer Dawn Phelps was named to an All-Star team of six out of 139 girls at the Petoskey Invitational Saturday.

Phelps was named to the squad by the six referees at the tournament who were asked to choose the one outstanding player for each game played. Phelps was selected in all games played by Grayling to easily win her place on the All-Star squad team.

Phelps also helped lead Grayling to a 5-3 record - just missing qualifying for the finals.

Grayling, playing in the toughest pool of five of the ten teams at the tournament, needed a 6-2 record to qualify for the finals.

The Vikings whipped Gaylord 15-5 and 15-7, handled East Jordan 15-6 and 15-8 and split with Inland Lakes, the second place team. Grayling lost the opener to Inland Lakes 15-8 before coming back to win 16-14.

Grayling then ran into their nemesis, Upper Peninsula foe Brimley, who beat them 15-8 and 15-6 to keep the Vikings out of the finals.

Brimley won the tournament.

Phelps led the team with 39 spikes and 16 blocks. Shelly Denton had 13 blocks and 11 spikes and Piper Ostrowski had 24 spikes and 4 blocks.

Shannon Krays led in sets with help from Denise Pittman and Phelps.

Defensively, Coach Becky Brown said Phelps, Pittman, and Ostrowski were big factors.

Phelps led the team in serving with 39 out of 42. Pittman put in 19 and Kathy Partin 10.

Cold Shooting Downs Vikes

Poor shooting led to Grayling's third loss in a row as Cheboygan ran over the Vikings 69-44 last Friday.

The Vikings shot only 29 percent (21 of 73) and missed 13 out of 24 shots taken in close within the lane.

Grayling outrebounded Cheboygan 43 to 39 and both teams were about even in fouls, turnovers, and steals. The Vikings came up far behind on the scoreboard, though.

Cheboygan outscored Grayling every quarter. The Vikings fell behind 18-6 after eight minutes and were 38-20 at half. Cheboygan outscored Grayling 14 to 8 and 17 to 16 in the third and fourth quarters.

Rod Patterson led Grayling with 13 points. Brad Naghtin added 8, Dave Jung 6, Gregg Burns 6, Mick Lovely 5, Jeff Branch 4, and Jon Nicholas 2.

Nativity Scene Furor Subsides

by Richard Millman

EVERY YEAR, or so it seems, the Christmas season will draw out some hue and cry about the propriety and the legality of certain Christmas traditions.

Specifically, the location of a nativity scene or creche on public grounds seems to draw lightning every November or December - then is lost in disinterest for the other 11 months of the year.

It happened again this Christmas season across the country - but here in Michigan, the primary attention was focused on Dearborn where the city erected a near-life size nativity scene on the lawn of Dearborn City Hall.

DEARBORN MAYOR John O'Reilly vowed to fight to keep the scene intact, and the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) predictably attacked the practice. The ACLU went into federal court, and just as predictably Judge Anna Diggs Taylor ruled that the creche had to go.

But Dearborn figured out a way around the order. The city sold the nativity figures and the actual land on which the display was located to a private foundation for a minimal figure, and the foundation in turn handed over the display and the land to the Dearborn Chamber of Commerce. The nativity scene stayed, and Judge Taylor ruled on appeal that the Dearborn maneuver was legal.

So the issue appears closed. But that's only for this year. You can bet that come next November and December, the same hue and cry will arise again, if not in Dearborn, then somewhere else in the state and around the nation.

Personally, I agree with Dearborn Mayor O'Reilly when he asked rhetorically: "How can you take Christ out of Christmas? It's like taking George Washington out of Washington's birthday."

PERHAPS THE ACLU and other objectors are misdirecting their fire. Catholic Bishop Kenneth J. Povich of Lansing, commenting on the Dearborn controversy in his newspaper column, claims that most of the signs of Christmas in common usage today have a religion and Christian beginning, even though they are considered non-religious now.

Colored lights represent "Christ as the light of the world," Bishop Povich writes; evergreen trees were adopted by the first German Christians as symbols of God's faithfulness...the holly wreath with red berries symbolizes Jesus' crown of thorns with drops of blood...even candy canes represent the staffs of shepherds who came to worship the Baby Jesus.

Bishop Povich also points out that the U.S.

has issued postage stamps depicting Mary and Baby Jesus, as well as Santa Claus - who, after all, comes from St. Nicholas, the Bishop of Myra.

"If the ACLU is to do its watchdog job, it will have to do more than go to court over creches on city hall lawns," the Bishop writes. "It will have to go after street lighting, Christmas trees, wreaths, candy canes, postage stamps and Santa Claus in public buildings and thoroughfares."

"Even the courts will have a hard time convincing most Americans that these findings establish an official state church in the sense that the founding fathers meant 'an establishment of religion' in the First Amendment."

TO ADD TO THE Bishop's list of other "violations" of the separation clause, I heard a public school vocal group, led by a public school teacher, sing various Christmas songs about the birth of Jesus, and "silent nights" and gathering of "the faithful"...was that a violation of the Constitution? I think not.

And on the State Capitol lawn is a stable scene depicting the birth of Jesus, carrying a sign that it was not erected at public expense. Is that a violation? Apparently not.

I agree that the ACLU and other objectors to Nativity Scenes and Christ in Christmas miss the mark when they argue that the religious displays violate the constitution. Christmas is a Christian religious holiday, and public recognition of this fact - by cities, schools and the federal government - poses no danger to the minds and morals of Americans, and really threatens nobody.

BEFORE WE LEAVE the subject for another 10 or 11 months, however, let us keep in mind something significant about the ACLU and other individuals and groups who stand against the mainstream of American opinion.

Although their role is usually unpopular, such groups are important to our system and to our citizens.

It's inherent in the nature of the ACLU role that it takes unpopular positions. The ACLU seeks to defend rights that would need no defense if they were backed by the popular majority. Thus the ACLU and similar organizations are forever on what most of us consider the "wrong" or unpopular sides of the issues.

Personally I hope the ACLU and its brethren continue to present the alternate viewpoint when basic rights are threatened. Who knows when any one of us may need such support? But in this particular instance, I think they're wrong.

A Bit of History

One of my sincerest wishes for 1985, is that the people of the Crawford AuSable School District resolve the Middle School Problem. Let's all get together and get things done for our Future Citizens.

Some ideas that might satisfy a few of the people are as follows:

We might go back to the 1918 school system. At that time there were twenty four schools in Crawford County. Most of the schools had grades one through eight and one teacher. Each teacher maintained strict discipline in the school without any interference from the parents. That type of parental support would be helpful today. All students had to walk to school under this system. There were no school or dial-a-ride buses offering door to door transportation at that time.

Some of these country school buildings are still standing. They could be renovated and used. The teachers could also take on the janitors job as some teachers did in early times. This would cut down on operational expenses.

Another sad happening about our school system - was the tearing down of the South Side School. The natives of the south side worked for several years to get this school building. It was to help take care of the small south side children. There wasn't any school buses in those days.

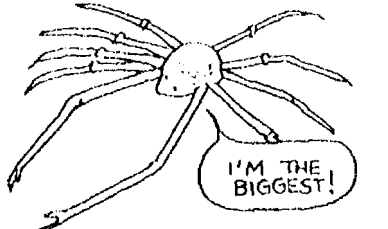

The building had two rooms, one room was for the first and second grades, the other for the third and fourth grades. There were two teachers. Each teacher had fifty pupils. Something like that might be tried today. It would require less classrooms. This school building was built in 1913 and torn down in 1975. It should have been renovated as it was only 62 years old.

I was one of the "Scummy" kids who went to the South Side School. "Scummy" was the degrading name that the janitor called the kids. I can imagine what would happen today if the janitor used that term.

One thing for certain the teachers had discipline in the classroom. The parents weren't about to have the teachers arrested for taking charge of the students.

I am quite sure that history will show that some teachers had fifty pupils in their classrooms in the middle and late twenties. Today that would help eliminate the need for more classrooms.

To bring you up to date on our twenty four schools in 1918, I will name them:

Sea Giant!

The giant spider crab of Japan dwarfs all other crustaceans with a span of 11 feet between outstretched claws, says National Geographic. The spider crabs reach adult size within 10 years and may live 50 years or more.

Proclamation

7 Crawford Co. Avalanche

Thurs., Jan. 10, 1985

Mayor Thompson designates January as National Volunteer Blood Donor Month.

It is a special privilege for me to designate January as National Volunteer Blood Donor Month and to thank the volunteer blood donors of America whose generosity makes a vital contribution to our nation's health.

The ever-urgent need for blood and blood components increases with advances in medical science. Recently developed major life-saving procedures add to the need for a safe and secure supply of blood. Our people's response to this increased need for blood and blood components has resulted in successful liver transplantations, the development of artificial hearts, the repair of damaged hearts, the successful treatment of leukemia, and restoration of the burned and injured.

Our blood banking service is the finest in the world and, through participation in the volunteer blood program, blood donors unselfishly share the blessing of good health with those who are less fortunate. I commend to all Americans this wonderful tradition of giving that benefits us all and remind you that the need for blood continues throughout the year.

Gordon "Sandy" Thompson
Mayor, City of Grayling

1983-84 State Surplus Over $282 Million

Warren M. Hoyt, Executive Dir., MPA

State budget officials have reported that the 1983-84 fiscal year surplus is $282.6 million, slightly higher than they had been estimating but considerably less than the prediction of the Senate Fiscal Agency, which was cited by some Republicans pushing earlier tax cuts.

The report also showed that a one-time $800 million debt that had been hidden in accounting procedures had been reduced to just $63.8 million as of September 30.

Management and Budget Director Robert Naftaly called the surplus (up from DMB's last estimate of $266.5 million, but down from the $330 million projected by the Senate agency) a "technical fund balance (which) does not provide a total picture of Michigan's financial situation."

He said the surplus is needed to help provide the required $387 million deposit this year into the budget stabilization fund and to cover $137.7 million lost by moving an income tax cut up to September 1. It originally was not scheduled to take effect until January 1, 1985.

The report estimated the surplus at the end of the current year, September 30, 1985, at a negligible $1.5 million, while SFA director Ted Ferris is still projecting a balance in the range of $200 million.

Ferris said the 1983-84 surplus was lower than his agency's estimate because lapses by agencies back to the general fund were only $72 million instead of the $121 million SFA estimate and the projected $63 million profit from state liquor operations was $22 million due to earlier payment of bills.

Ferris added he is awaiting a detailed look at the preliminary statement, but said one reason for lower lapses was $20 million in overspending by the Department of Social Services, which will have to be covered with supplemental appropriations this year, instead of an expected $10 million lapse.

"It is not clear that the departments did as good a job as they could have in staying within appropriations," Ferris said and noted they would be reviewing, in particular, the reasons for the DSS spending.

Governor James Blanchard said the improved financial condition compared to the $1.7 billion in debts in 1983, due to both a budget deficit and accumulated debts, represents historic progress and demonstrates that "through constant vigilance and unprecedented budget restraint, Michigan's government has become a model of financial discipline and responsibility."

Naftaly said a year from now, the state will be able to conform to accepted accounting procedures and then the financial statement will reflect a true condition.

A portion of the cigarette tax and a .25 percent income tax levy will continue to be collected over that time until a fund devoted to correcting accounting procedures has enough to properly reflect about $750 million in annual income tax collections.

The report showed the fund still about $63.8 million in the red as of September 30, but with the two taxes producing about $25 million a month, Ferris said as of about mid-December, it is no longer accurate to say Michigan has a long-term debt.

A final report, which resolves items only estimated in this report, is due by March 31, 1985.

Blood Pressure Clinics Dates Changed at Mercy

Grayling Mercy Hospital announced they are changing the dates of the bi-monthly Blood Pressure Clinics from the second and fourth Mondays of each month to the fourth Monday only. Pat Hanson, community service coordinator at Mercy Hospital said the next clinic will be scheduled for January 28 at the regular time of 3:30 p.m. until 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Hanson said the clinics have been going very well, "However, we are concerned that we are not reaching the individuals who need the program the most... those between the ages of 35 and 55 years of age," she said. It is this age group where early hypertension usually begins, she added.

A recent Detroit Free Press column had the following to say about hypertension: "...Left untreated, high blood pressure increases risk of strokes, heart attacks and kidney failure. But effective treatment can reduce the risk. By one estimate, better detection and treatment of high blood pressure could save 8,800 lives a year in this country.

The problem is people with high blood pressure may not realize they even have the condition because they feel fine and show no symptoms. Often the problem is detected only by a blood pressure check."

After months and years of continuous high blood pressure, the effects of the condition start to manifest itself. The walls of the arteries, heart and kidneys start to weaken, and ultimately one of the fatal conditions mentioned above occurs often at a comparatively young age.

Mrs. Hanson said we need to identify these people early so the years of wearing and tearing can be halted, or at least slowed down. It's the young and middle aged person who gets early hypertension that run the big risk.

Eliminating one clinic a month will allow Mercy Hospital to experiment with other programs to reach the young and middle aged person. Mrs. Hanson said they are considering taking the clinic out to schools, businesses and industry to do on the spot checking. This program is still in the planning stages and more information will be released as the program develops, said Mrs. Hanson.

Dear Whitey:
During the past couple of weeks I have received inquiries regarding the location of Knight Street in the City of Grayling. This street was generously donated to the City of Grayling by Mr. Ed Gierke and his wife Ellen several years ago and connects the north end of Fulton Street with Gierke Road, 1 block north of Madsen Street and south of the AuSable River Main Stream.

I appreciate your helping me to advise people of this street and would like to take this opportunity to once again thank Ed and Ellen Gierke for their generous donation.

RSVP Reports

We are already 10 days into our new year and I'm certain many of you, find yourselves in disbelief at how fast the days fly by, just as we do. With over 200 dedicated seniors in the program, 1984 was a very productive year at RSVP.

As the new year begins, our Annual Mail Campaign has reached the halfway point. Each year we must raise $5,000 as matching funds for our ACTION grant. We appreciate all those generous people who have helped us reach the midpoint of $2,500. If you set the letter aside in the holiday bustle, it's not too late to send it in. We still hope to reach the $5,000 goal before May.

There are several areas where volunteers are still needed. They include: teachers aids for the Co-op Nursery, a Spanish tutor for the High School, Math tutors for the Middle School and Special Ed aids for the High School. We also receive calls for office help quite regularly plus more meals-on-wheels drivers are always needed on both a regular and sub basis now that so many volunteers have gone south for the winter. If you are interested in any of these assignments, please call the RSVP office at 348-4341 or 348-3232.

Anyone who is 60 years or older and interested in serving their community as a volunteer, is urged to give us a call or stop by our office across the street from AuSable Acres on Lawndale.

Happy New Year, everyone!

ADULT LEARNING CENTER TO CONTINUE

Because of a highly successful first semester, the Grayling Community Education Programs "Adult Learning Center" concept will be continued into the second semester. There are three programs in the Adult Learning Center designed to meet the needs of educationally disadvantaged and unemployed adults of our community and surrounding area. Those programs are Adult Basic Education, Job Employability Skills and a G.E.D. Test Preparation Class. All three of these classes are held at the Grayling High School. The second semester classes in the Adult Learning Center will begin the week of January 21. All three classes are offered FREE of charge to any qualifying adult.

The Adult Basic Education Program is designed for adults who read below the eighth grade level and for those who have difficulty with basic mathematic skills. Adults who want to refresh some of their basic skills or need help with a specific skill are encouraged to enroll in the Adult Basic Education Program. Improvement in the following skills will be stressed in this program: Reading, Writing, Spelling, Basic Mathematics and Penmanship. Special emphasis will be placed upon individualized instruction. As a student's skills improve, they will be encouraged to transfer into the G.E.D. Test Preparation Class or to continue their education in the Adult High School Completion Program. The Adult Education Class meets at Grayling High School on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7:00 p.m. until 9:00 p.m.

The G.E.D. Test Preparation Class is a class designed to prepare students to write the General Education Development Test. There are five different sections of the G.E.D. Test and students in the Preparation Class concentrate on each section just prior to taking it. As one section is completed, study begins on the next section until the student has successfully completed the complete battery of tests and received his high school equivalency certificate. G.E.D. Preparation classes are held at Grayling High School on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 6:30 p.m. until 10:00 p.m.

The Job Employability Skills Program is a program in which our instructor/counselor will help you discover the different jobs you can do and those you would enjoy doing. In this class students will develop the skills and learn the secrets necessary for finding the job they want. In this program students will: Learn how to sell themselves to employers; Discover hints on resume and letter writing; Develop interview techniques; Build confidence through motivation; Determine job goals; Determine their individual job skills and strengths; and, Receive job search assistance. The Job Employability Skills Program will be held at Grayling High School on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7:00 p.m. until 9:00 p.m. The class is offered completely FREE of charge and will begin on Tuesday evening, January 22, 1985.

Community Helps Needy

By Sue Louchart

The Crawford County Girl Scouts along with our other service organizations in the community are helping make a Merry Christmas for over two hundred families this year. Mittens, hats and scarves from the Mitten Tree put up by Brownie Troop 2009 under the leadership of Carla Jean Gingerich in the Goodale Bakery yielded over 157 items and over $25 in cash donations to buy more to help provide warmth for people this winter.

The Mini Mall last week was a busy place as boxes were wrapped to be filled with can goods, presents of hats and mittens, nightwear and toys. Fresh foods topped the boxes off before being delivered to the families the day before Christmas.

The Crawford County Girl Scouts are happy to be a part of this worthwhile service to their community and thank everyone who donated items to the Mitten Tree. A special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Goodale and their family and staff at the Bakery for their time. Also thanks to all the knitters - start knitting for next year.

To everyone in Crawford County all the Crawford County Girl Scouts and their volunteers wish you all Happy Holidays!

Over One Million People Receive Michigan Welfare

By Sen. Connie Blinsfeld

More than one million people in Michigan receive some form of welfare. It may be food stamps, it may be General Assistance, it may be Aid to Families with Dependent Children. Serving so many people, it is not surprising that Michigan's programs have a high error rate.

Under federal regulations, if an error or fraud rate for a state Social Services agency exceeds a certain level, then the federal government can demand repayment of a portion of the funding. Until now, the federal government has not forced any state to pay back any money. However, Michigan's Dept. of Social Services (DSS) faces possible federal sanctions of up to $30 million for errors in 1983 and $15 million in 1982.

So in an effort to reduce the error rate, and save taxpayers at least part of the $40 million that welfare fraud and errors in Michigan cost each year, Michigan businesses soon may have to provide lists of their employees to the state.

Under the proposal, employment lists would be compared with the state's welfare rolls every three months to find recipients who claim they are unemployed or earning more than the minimum income allowed under a welfare program. The move could save up to $20 million in its first year by reducing overpayments and fraudulent claims.

Currently, 38 states already compare their welfare rolls with wage reporting systems. Since the federal government has mandated that the employment checks be in place in all states by 1988, DSS officials are hoping to receive some of the $2 million start-up cost from the federal government.

Although most large corporations already have computerized lists of workers, small businesses will have to update the information by hand. Lawmakers and state officials have been conferring with business groups to create a system that would require a minimum amount of time to compile the data.

If we reduce the welfare caseload by including only those legitimately in need, we protect their interests as well as the state's.

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

In general, there are four types of regulations with which a Conservation Officer deals. These are state law, administrative rules, Commission Orders and Director's Orders.

State laws, passed by the legislature and signed by the Governor, attempt to set major guidelines for action. For example, the Game Law (Act 286 of 1929) covers the do's and don'ts of hunting, trapping and related activities. State law cannot be changed without action by both houses of the legislature.

Administrative rules are used by all state departments to enhance the state laws they administer. Instead of the legislature getting bogged down in the rules process, a joint committee acts upon rules proposed by a department. If approved, the rules carry the weight of law. Requirements for safety equipment on watercraft are administrative rules.

Commission Orders emanate from the Natural Resources Commission and generally set forth specific regulations allowed by statute. For example, the Game Law sets hunting seasons and bag limits for certain animals. In some cases, these are locked in and cannot be changed. Others, however, are flexible, with the NRC given authority to do what it deems best. Examples of these are bear, turkey, and waterfowl seasons. At no time can the NRC go outside the limits set by statute.

The Director of the DNR is empowered by statute to issue orders relative to many aspects of the department's activities. Examples of Director's Orders are those dealing with state lands (Deward closure) and fish (Quality Fishing Regulations). Again, a Director's Order must stay within the letter and spirit of existing law.

All four of these sources have one thing in common: public input is welcome and hoped for during developmental stages.

It is sometimes difficult to understand why we have regulations coming from so many sources. Why not just allow the legislature to handle everything? Well, mainly because they couldn't do it. Amending a law is a cumbersome, time consuming process, whereas changing an order to enlarge a turkey hunting area is quickly and efficiently done.

GHS Wrestler Wins Title

Tim Moore, at 132 pounds, took first place in his weight division at the 16-team Freeland Invitational last Saturday.

The Grayling wrestler won four times at the tournament. He pinned his first three opponents and then won by a decision in the finals. His overall record is now 16-6.

Ron Wyman, just returning from an injury, took second place at 145 pounds losing to the tournament's Most Valuable wrestler in overtime in the finals.

"It was a good match," Viking coach Don Ferguson said. "They both were state medalists last year and 145 pounds was the toughest weight class at the tournament."

It was Wyman's only loss of the year. He had wrestled once before being injured and now has a 4-1 record.

Lance Davis, at 185 pounds, took third place by winning two matches. He lost by two points to the first place winner.

Robin Monforton, at 119 pounds, took fifth with three wins and a loss Saturday. His overall record is now 12-8.

Buck Monforton, at 98 pounds, took a sixth and pushed his record to 14-6. Ward Jones, at 138 pounds, also took a sixth and improved his record to 11-9.

Ferguson said his freshmen wrestlers are starting to find out what they need to do to win.

In a Thursday meet against Petoskey, Grayling was defeated 58-12. Tim Moore and Robin Monforton were the only Vikings to record wins.

Grayling travels to Clare Saturday for a nine-team tournament. The Thursday, Jan. 8th, meet against Rogers City is cancelled because of exams for Rogers City.

Shepherd, Alma, and Caro shared first place at the Freeland Invitational.

Doodles From The Tall Timber

Wendell L. Hoover
Park Interpreter

After 1864, the business of logging and pine became such a great business that for nearly half a century the name of Michigan was a synonym for pine logging. On the Muskegon, 96 million board feet of logs were rafted and delivered by the Muskegon Booming Company in its first year of operation. The Tittabawassee Boom Company, in 1864, rafted and delivered 90 million board feet of logs.

It is apparent that the need for more and varied log marks was necessary. In fact, in just a few short years the multitude of log marks became so complex that one of the major booming companies is said to have offered fifty dollars to anyone who could design a mark of three letters in any arrangement that had not been used before.

The variety of marks seems boundless. Combinations of letters, letters and numbers, numbers, letters and symbols, or symbols were all used. The language used by the rivermen to identify such marks was, to say the least, at times unprintable. A reversed "Z", for instance, was a "square snake." A "K" on its back with a curve over it became a "flying K." A circle with rays emanating from it like a stylized sun was called "Solar." One Salling-Hanson Company mark was the initials R.H. followed closely by a stylized pine tree. This mark was called Hanson's Pine and was used in the Alpena area in 1887.

Chamber Chatter

Recently the Chamber of Commerce hosted a luncheon meeting requested by the Michigan Department of Commerce, Office of Business and Community Development. Among those attending were representatives of the Crawford County Economic Development Corporation, the Chambers Industrial Development Committee and representatives of the County Commissioners. A recent "Thank You" communication from the principles of the Department of Commerce who attended the meeting, had this to say: "As discussed at our meeting, the Michigan Dept. of Commerce has resources available to enhance economic development initiatives in your area. It is the hope of the department to establish and maintain direct contact with local development agencies and industry to insure economic growth. We wish to work with you in identifying companies that can best benefit from state programs. We will be available for direct service to your area on a regular basis, and will contact you prior to each visit."

The purpose of the meeting was to get as much information as we could about state supported programs. Mike Pohl and John Bailey were the Dept. of Commerce representatives.

Grayling is getting its share of publicity about the natural attractions available for those who love the great "Outdoors," especially cross country skiing. The EMTA sends us a note from outdoor writer Ray Grob of Fremont, Ohio who visited the Grayling area just recently. Ray and wife Jane did cross country skiing at Hartwick Pines, the Holiday Inn, Hanson Hills Recreation Area and North Higgins Lake State park. Ray says in his letter to EMTA and Grayling Chamber, "I am now doing a column for five Ohio publications. So, my piece about skiing in the Grayling area and the facilities of the Grayling Holiday Inn really 'got around.'" Jane and I also did a radio show on the same topic which was aired on our three stations a couple of weeks ago." Thank you very much, Ray Grob and wife Jane.

Also, this summer, we hit the Florida papers in a photographic story by outdoor writer Bill Miller of the Fort Myers News Press. David Wyss of Jim's Canoe Livery, guided Miller and Joel Arrington, outdoor editor for the North Carolina Division of Travel and Tourism. We received beautiful copy from both of these nationally recognized writers, complimenting us for the arrangements and to David Wyss for his expertise.

The Grayling Mercantile Co., which is ending its business life as a retail supplier of clothing and shoes will be a memory, but a part of the name may continue. Bruce Gillis of Gaylord, owner of Gillis Properties informs us that the building will be transformed into 7 small retail stores, each 500 to 1000 sq. ft. in size. The building will be referred to as the Mercantile Mall, temporarily at least. Mr. Gillis invites venture capital as well as entrepreneur to open shops in the remodeled structure. The decision to continue with a retail atmosphere is a good one. Bruce Gillis can be reached at Gillis Properties Co., P.O. Box 246, Gaylord, Mi. 49735 or (517) 732-4696.

On another matter, we offer our congratulations to Mary Harland for being elected Chairperson and Jeannette Kitchen, Vice Chair, for the County Board of Commissioners.

Where is your destiny?

While you're getting comfortably settled and fastening your seatbelt the captain and his crew are busy with their checklist. While you're watching the movie they'll be studying instruments, monitoring radio signals, following charts. It's wonderful to relax, confident the people up front know what they're doing and where they are going.

In the excitement of welcoming the beginning of the New Year don't overlook the fact that YOU are the chap with the checklists and charts. We aren't passengers on this spinning globe. We are pilots and navigators and members of the crew — all responsible for reaching safely a destiny God has set for us.

Long before Kitty Hawk generations were finding in the Bible their checklists and charts. In its earliest days the world recognized Christianity as a new "plan for living" and called it the Way.

"Happy New Year" puts all the emphasis on take-off. Those up front who know what they're doing always say "Happy Landing."

Capitol Commentary

By Sen. Connie Blinsfeld

High-tech has finally become a high priority in Michigan.

Legislation creating technology park districts has been approved by both the Michigan Senate and House, and will become law with the Governor's signature.

The districts will be located within five miles of a four-year college or university. Landowners within a university area request that the educational institution ask the local municipality to create the technology district. High-tech companies would then set up operation within the district and could be granted up to 50 percent personal tax abatements for new, real, or personal property improvements. Communities could allow companies locating there to pay only half their assessed property taxes for up to twelve years.

Prior to this bill other companies, such as manufacturing and industrial corporations, were eligible for the tax breaks. Now, that same incentive will be open to high-tech interests as well. The community benefits as well because students from the university will be allowed access to modern, state-of-the-art laboratories and research facilities built in the high-tech parks. This saves state expenditures in building updated educational facilities and instantly increases the school's desirability by offering valuable experience in these technological research labs. In addition, the company is assured of skilled workers who can be offered jobs within the technological company at graduation.

Michigan has the opportunity, with this legislation, to become a leader in the technology park field. Business interests, academic institutions, and the community all benefit from the growth and diversity these districts would encourage.
